Co-op Market & Deli
Lend a Hand
526 Gaffney Rd.
Fairbanks, AK 99701

Nov. 26, 2019

Dear Owners and Board,

The Literacy Council of Alaska has been a recipient of the Lend a Hand Program four times and we are respectfully applying again for the year 2020. During the past year we have expanded the ELL classes to include evening classes and graduated the largest number of GED graduates thus far at 76. We currently are on track to 90 GED graduates and have 48 students in our English language program. The after school program for at risk youth achieved over 10,000 hours this summer.

It is because of contributions from our community partners and friends that we are allowed to keep up the work of changing lives through literacy. The funds we have received from the Co-op Market have gone towards general administration, instruction, instructors and student supplies for our adult learners. It has also provided after school programming and the book recycle effort.

The LCA and Co-op Market are both concern with service, sustainability and social responsibility. Thank you for once again considering LCA for the lend a hand program.

Sincerely,

Mike Kolasa
Executive Director
Literacy Council of Alaska

Supplementary Answers

1. Please provide your mission statement and a brief summary of your organization's work.

LCA's mission is to change lives through literacy. LCA has provided literacy services in Interior Alaska since the early 1970s. We provide adult education for those seeking a GED, employment credentials, English as a second language, and US citizenship. We also have a youth program that meets educational and early employment needs. LCA runs a year-round afterschool program at Birch Park, which serves elementary age students. Finally, we run a bookstore and book recycling program that provides up to 25,000 books annually throughout Alaska.

2. How does your work align with Co-op Market's mission and values?

Our mission of changing lives through literacy lines up with service, sustainability, and social responsibility. Along with your mission and values (apart from providing healthful foods and products!) LCA finds joy in teaching and educating our neighbors (service), fostering community change and student success (sustainability), and prioritizing our students and those relationships (social responsibility).

3. How will the Lend a Hand funds be used?

The funds will be used to pay for instructors, classes, materials, and all the things that go into running an adult education program here in Fairbanks. The funding and partnership with the Co-op continue to be an important part of LCA's work.

4. If you organization received funding from Co-op Market in the past, please describe how this funding supported your organization and mission.

LCA has received funding several times from the Co-op Market and her customers generous round-ups! These funds have supported LCA's mission of educating adult in our community. These funds go toward the general administration, instruction, instructors, and adult programs at LCA. Funding also helps provide the after school programming and book recycling efforts at LCA.

5. What is your elevator pitch? Cashiers usually have about 10 seconds to describe our monthly recipient to a shopper. Please describe your organization and how the funds will be used in 100 words or less.

The Literacy Council of Alaska exists to change lives through literacy. Last year our adult students and ESL students attended over 13,000 hours of classes. 70 students earned their GED. We are growing and so are our students!

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter is in response to your telephone call requesting a copy of your organization's determination letter. This letter will take the place of the copy you requested.

Our records indicate that a determination letter issued in April 1975 granting your organization exemption from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. That letter is still in effect.

Based on information subsequently submitted, we classified your organization as one that is not a private foundation within the meaning of section 509(a) of the Code because it is an organization described in sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi).

This classification was based on the assumption that your organization's operations would continue as stated in the application. If your organization's sources of support, or its character, method of operations, or purposes have changed, please let us know so we can consider the effect of the change on the exempt status and foundation status of your organization.

Your organization is required to file Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax, only if its gross receipts each year are normally more than $25,000. If a return is required, it must be filed by the 15th day of the fifth month after the end of the organization's annual accounting period. The law imposes a penalty of $20 a day, up to a maximum of $10,000, when a return is filed late, unless there is reasonable cause for the delay.

All exempt organizations (unless specifically excluded) are liable for taxes under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (social security taxes) on remuneration of $100 or more paid to each employee during a calendar year. Your organization is not liable for the tax imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA).

Organizations that are not private foundations are not subject to the excise taxes under Chapter 42 of the Code. However, these organizations are not automatically exempt from other federal excise taxes.

Donors may deduct contributions to your organization as provided in section 170 of the Code. Bequests, legacies, devises, transfers, or gifts to your organization or for its use are deductible for federal estate and gift tax purposes if they meet the applicable provisions of sections 2055, 2106, and 2522 of the Code.

Your organization is not required to file federal income tax returns unless it is subject to the tax on unrelated business income under section 511 of the Code. If your organization is subject to this tax, it must file an income tax return on the Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. In this letter, we are not determining whether any of your organization's present or proposed activities are unrelated trade or business as defined in section 513 of the Code.

The law requires you to make your organization's annual return available for public inspection without charge for three years after the due date of the return. You are also required to make available for public inspection a copy of your organization's exemption application, any supporting documents and the exemption letter to any individual who requests such documents in person or in writing. You can charge only a reasonable fee for reproduction and actual postage costs for the copied materials. The law does not require you to provide copies of public inspection documents that are widely available, such as by posting them on the Internet (World Wide Web). You may be liable for a penalty of $20 a day for each day you do not make these documents available for public inspection (up to a maximum of $10,000 in the case of an annual return).

Because this letter could help resolve any questions about your organization's exempt status and foundation status, you should keep it with the organization's permanent records.

If you have any questions, please call us at the telephone number shown in the heading of this letter.

This letter affirms your organization's exempt status.

Sincerely,
